++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry and sunny but feeling rather cold.

Today:
A chilly start on Monday, but a sunny and dry day follows with clear skies for all and a light breeze in the south. Temperatures slightly up compared to Sunday but still feeling on the cold side. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Feeling cold as temperatures quickly drop off under clear skies and light winds. Staying dry throughout but the risk of a frost developing relatively widely. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Tuesday:
Another cold start. Decent amount of sunshine in the south but turning increasingly cloudy in the north with the odd shower. Feeling cool with temperatures around average for November. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Cloudy to start on Wednesday before outbreaks of rain develop later. Turning brighter, breezier, and colder again on Thursday, then the risk of further rain on Friday.
